CAB ISSUES REGULATION REQUIRING DEPLANING OF PASSENGERS

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) adopted last August 16, 2016 Resolution No. 49 (BM 06-08-16-2016) entitled “In Re: Regulation Requiring the Deplaning of Passengers & Promoting their Convenience on Occasion of Long Tarmac Delays”.

The CAB determined after consultation with the public and stakeholders that there is a need to adopt rules and procedures to mitigate passenger discomfort during lengthy tarmac delays.

Resolution No. 49 applies to long tarmac delays occurring within the Philippines on any flight operated by domestic and international carriers, operating scheduled services to, from or within (for domestic carriers only) the Philippines.

The Resolution states that tarmac delay occurs when the aircraft remains on the ground for two (2) hours or more, reckoned from the time the aircraft door is closed with no opportunity for its passengers to deplane, either before taking off or after landing, due to security and/or safety reasons and such other causes as may be determined by the Air Traffic Control, making deplaning impracticable.

Concerned air carriers are to submit a contingency plan covering situations involving tarmac delays. Such plan shall, at the minimum, contain provisions when the Pilot-in-Command (PIC) shall commence deplaning procedures of passengers which shall not exceed three (3) hours for domestic flights and four (4) hours for international flights upon closing of aircraft doors or upon landing with the doors closed. Deplaning beyond the said period may be commenced when there is safety-related or security-related reasons or when Air Traffic Control advises that returning to gate for disembarkation or permitting passengers to disembark at another disembarkation point will significantly disrupt airport operations or when PIC receives NOTAM advising that flight can depart within 30 minutes after breaking the two-hour threshold.

The air carrier must assure that it will provide adequate food and potable water no later than two (2) hours after the aircraft leaves the gate (departure) or touches down (arrival) and that there are operable lavatory facilities and medical attention if needed while the aircraft is on the tarmac.

Also, the air carrier must provide, as much as practicable, accommodation, when necessary, food and communication service to allow the inconvenienced passengers to call relatives or make necessary arrangements for their remaining flights or other onward destinations.
